LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

ASHLAND, APRIL 22, 1888.

See advertisement of H. J. Traver & Co. in another column.

Five-hundred bonds on hand for exchange for Seven-hundred Treasury Notes, at lowest rate, at Citizens Bank.

Old Stone Corner—Fraser & Robman have just received a large assortment of Family Groceries of all kinds, which they will sell cheap. Give them a call.

Provision Store—Call at the provision store of McCook & Stevens and you will find them obliging, attentive, and ready to furnish at cheap rates, the substantial, in the way of provisions, etc.

A. Myers, at Citizens Bank is Agent here for the North Western Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wis., one of the best and cheapest. Call and get a pamphlet free. (2w43)

Great Excitement—Kaggy & Moore have gone into business in the old stand of John Burke. It will pay to visit the provision store of these gentlemen; for they expect to keep on hand a good supply of family groceries of every kind.

T. M. & S. B. Smith—These gentlemen keep all sorts of Hardware, Cutlery, etc., on hand at their old stand. Give them a call and suit yourselves from a peddle up to the choice of Hardware. Milt & Sherman are men of integrity, obliging and pains-taking. Drop in.

Boots & Shoes—Limbeck has a fine supply of first class Shoes, Gaiters, etc., at his store. There is no occasion to wear old shoes, when new ones can be obtained at cheap rates. Give Limbeck a call, and you will not regret it.

Hardware—We call special attention to the advertisement of Dr. J. B. F. Sampel. He will be able to accommodate, on the most reasonable terms, all who desire any thing in the Hardware line. Give the Doctor a call, and you will find him and his gentlemanly assistants ready to wait on you at all times.

A Runaway—On Sunday afternoon an animal owned by Dr. J. B. F. Sampel, became unmanageable, and made rapid progress up Centre street with Mr. Vinton Sampel and buggy, and brought up with a crash against the front fence of Gen'l Stoum, smashing the buggy. Mr. Sampel escaped without being seriously injured.

Personal—Joseph Brice, Practical Cutter and Merchant Tailor, has removed his store from Stoum's new block to the room over J. B. F. Sampel & Co.'s Hardware Store, where he will be pleased to see all his old friends and customers. He returns his thanks to the public for the generous patronage he has received, and hopes by strict attention to business to continue to merit it.

E. W. WALLACE, in the New Bank building, opposite the Town Hall, has received a large and well assorted stock of Boots and Shoes, adapted to the wants of the people. In variety, style and quality, his goods will be found the best in market, and as low as any other house in the trade. We believe it is to your interest to patronize a man of experience, with a thorough knowledge of the shoe trade, and who has one price for his goods. We take pleasure in saying that all who wish a fine boot made in good style and from the very best French stock, should give him a call.

Systematic Advertising is the most certain plan to secure and retain business. The company which would save money by not advertising is the very supreme of folly. Advertising has become an art and as easily learned, as those of any other art. The advantage resulting from its judicious employment are not fully appreciated by our commercial community. Thousands of persons are constantly on the look out for something to buy, either to gratify their own immediate wants, to gratify their fancy, or to make an investment. Money is made to use for one purpose or another, and some body or other always has some to spend some way or other.

Sudden Death—Mr. John Lucas, an old citizen of the north part of Perry township, in this county, was suddenly killed near Ashland on Saturday evening last, just after dark. He had been to town with his team, and was returning home, when the horses became alarmed, and after running some little distance, the tongue of the wagon broke, and Mr. Lucas was suddenly thrown out upon his head and shoulders, and so much injured, that he survived only a few minutes. His body was taken to his residence during the evening, by his friends, where a sad scene took place in his family, on seeing the lifeless body of one who had a few hours before left home in good health.

REMOVAL?

THE ASHLAND UNION—This morning Democratic paper has changed hands. J. M. LAMPS and Bro., announce in their weekly paper, the Ashland Union, that they have sold the establishment to Dr. G. W. Hill. Dr. Hill is now reporting the proceedings of the Ohio House of Representatives. He has the ability and experience to make the Union a first class county paper.—Limes Democrat.

THE ASHLAND UNION.—The Messrs LAMPS have sold this paper to Mr. Geo. W. Hill, which bears the title of "The States & Union." Always an efficient Democratic organ under the control of the Messrs LAMPS, we assured it will continue so under the new administration.—Marion Mirror.

THE LAMPS BROTHERS, editors and proprietors of the Ashland Union, have sold their office to Geo. W. Hill, Esq., and retire from the "editorial treadmill." We wish them great success in whatever business they may engage. To the new editor we extend the "right hand of fellowship," and shall always welcome the States and Union to our sanctum.—Gallian Review.

THE STATES AND UNION.—A glance at the "States and Union," that old reliable Democratic paper, published at Ashland, Ohio, reveals the fact of a change of proprietors. It is now under the control of Mr. Geo. W. Hill, a gentleman of ability, who will preserve the reputation of that popular paper for good and evil. We like his salutary, and consider him highly qualified for his position.

We wish the retiring Editors, the Messrs LAMPS, prosperity and abundant success in any new department of life upon which they may enter.—Wayne Co. Democrat.

THE ASHLAND UNION.—Dr. Geo. Hill, at present reporting the proceedings of the Ohio House of Representatives, has purchased the Ashland Union of Messrs J. M. LAMPS and Bro., and the first number comes to us enlarged and improved, under the appropriate name of "The States & Union" with the true ring of the right metal. We cordially welcome Bro. Hill to the corps editorial, and hope we may not long lose the valuable services of Dr. Hill. Lamps in the great cause of Democracy, as they are sterling democrats and efficient editors.—Shield and Banner.

NEWSPAPERIAL.—The Ashland Union, the organ of the Democracy of Ashland County, has passed into the hands of Mr. Geo. W. Hill, and the first number of that political sound journal, under the new dispensation, is now before us. It has been enlarged and greatly improved in many respects, and without disparagement to the late proprietors, we must congratulate the Democracy of Ashland County upon the change.—Mr. Hill is at present the official reporter of the Ohio House of Representatives. He is a sterling gentleman, a fluent writer and above all, a sound Democrat of the Jefferson school. We wish him all manner of success and that the Democracy of his part of the State will appreciate his efforts.—Hamilton Free-Press.

Things About Perryville.

The winter term of the Grantwood Academy, Prof. J. C. Sample, Principal, closed on the 26th of March. This year has been a perfect success. There were between forty and fifty students, among whom prevailed the utmost peace and love and harmony.

We were present at the examination, and were surprised and delighted with all we saw and heard.

There were two classes in Arithmetic, Rays and Greenleaf's National, two in Algebra, one just finishing, one class in Geometry just entering Trigonometry. Classes in German from first German book to William Tell, French, in Charles XII, one class in Latin reading Caesar, and one in Cicero's orations. The Greek we did not hear, but know there are classes well advanced in this language also.

The spring term commenced on the 9th of April, already we are thronged with students, every nook and cranny from garret to basement, has one, and the cry is, "fill 'em some!"

The board of directors who are the bone and sinew of the place are making preparations to erect a boarding house 125 feet long and 25 feet wide, capable of accommodating fifty students. With such men at the helm, there is no such a thing as failure.

The old Academy is to be renovated in the summer season, preparatory to the fall term, and all things made new and beautiful and commodious.

Our village is improving rapidly, several new buildings are going up the coming summer; mechanics and tradesmen and those with growing families find this an excellent location, and best of all, the moral tone of the place is one to be proud of. Intellectually, we are moving on sorely. An audience of six hundred persons will stand and sit, a perfect jam, listening intently and respectfully, and quietly on the evenings of the Excelsior Public Society, to lectures, essays and debates, that in many larger places could not find a respectable or appreciative assemblage. Nigger shows and flashy clatter of cheap panoramas, are expunged henceforth from Perryville.

The division of the sons of temperance is still in a flourishing condition, every body's temperance, it has grown to be indignant.

We have a "Bond of Hope" in good working order, with a membership of about thirty children, little chaps who will rise and give their experience and views on matters relating to questions of morality and temperance—talk of their own volition, and with original, declamations, dialogues, essays, etc., make a very pleasant evening entertainment among themselves. They meet one evening every fortnight.

Our village has no tattling women, no mischief makers, no drunkards. We owe all this to the united influence of our prosperous churches, growing academy, and this rock upon which we stand, temperance.

No village in the State has more reason to be grateful and thankful for her blessings than we of Perryville.

CHARACTER OF GOODS

Our stock will always be found to consist of nothing but the best of every description of GOODS usually found in a first class DRY GOODS STORE. Our advantages for buying are not surpassed, and by close application to business and honest dealings, we hope to meet a very liberal share of patronage.

A Voice from the Camp.

The following extract is from the speech of Fisher Ames, one of the most distinguished patriots of the Revolution, and as a statesman as Massachusetts has ever produced, which was made in the first Congress that convened under the Constitution, in 1789, showing the soundness of the truths that are at this moment in peril by reason of the revolutionary acts of the Radical Congress.

"The executive department should ever be independent, and sufficiently energetic to defeat the attempts of either branch of the Legislature to usurp its prerogative. But the proposed control of the Senate (to interfere with the President's right of removal) is setting that body above the President; it tends to establish an aristocracy. And at the moment we are endeavoring the principles of our free and excellent Constitution, gentlemen are trying to assume the people with the sword of liberty. If their ideas should succeed, a principle of mortality will be infused into a Government which the lovers of mankind have wished might last to the end of the world. With a mixture of the Executive and legislative powers in one body, no Government can long remain uncorrupt. With a corrupt Executive, liberty will long retain a trembling existence. With a corrupt Legislature, it is impossible; the vitality of the Constitution would be mortified, and death must follow in every step. A Government thus formed, would be the most formidable curse that could befall this country. Perhaps an enlightened people might simply force and correct the evil; but if a season was allowed for such a compound to grow and produce its natural fruit, it would either banish liberty, or people would be driven to exercise their unalienable right, right of unenvied nature, and destroy a mother whose voracious jaws could crush and swallow up themselves and their posterity."

Bad News from the South.

The Danville (Ky.) Advertiser, in noticing the return of COLONEL BOWMAN, of that section, from Georgia, says: "The Colonel says the business of the South is utterly prostrated, and gloom and melancholy is seen on every face you meet. There will be a limited effort to make a crop, but planting will not be attempted on any large scale. His information from all quarters was that there was a pretty active demand for mules, at an advanced rate. Broke mules are in greatest demand. The season was bank and no preparation for planting."

In illustrating the intelligence of the convention which is engaged in making a constitution for Georgia, the Advertiser speaks of Jack Bell, a negro delegate from Oglethorpe County. It says: "When I was at the convention, a member of the convention, Mr. Bell, was not long in calling on Jack to ascertain how the freedmen were treated in Oglethorpe. 'Why, sir,' said Jack, 'day war't treated far las' year, sar. De planters only gree to give us a third of de crop. I'm gwine to see de day gets a fourth this next year, de planters is always taking vantage of de freedmen, sar.' This is no fancy sketch. It is sober truth—and these are the kind of men who are making constitutions for white men to live under, who give the privilege of vote to one kind of other constitutions or laws. What a shame!"

River News—Indian Depredations.

St. Louis, April 18.—The steamer Geo. D. Palmer was nearly destroyed by the late night. She was insured for $15,000. The firemen of the city, men's National Guard, and the fire department, were called out to assist in the burning of the steamer. The fire was not reported.

A post return received yesterday at Gen. Sherman's headquarters from Fort Fitterman, Daotah Territory, contained the following: This mail from Fort Berthold was attacked by the Indians, March 10, at the Dry Forks, on Powder river. No loss. A detachment from a saw mill, while loading logs, was attacked by Indians. Private Thomas Bouke, of the 18th Infantry, was killed. Horse Shoe and Twin Spring Bridges were burned by Indians March 20. Three citizens were killed. A dispatch from Kansas City, Kansas, dated the 17th, says: Medicine Wolf, a noted chief of the Cheyennes, came to day with forty men to express friendship for the whites. He says the Cheyennes will not go to war this summer. They are fed by the city at the fort, and are full of war paint, and after the Pawnees.

Immense herd of buffalo all round town are passing north.

The High Farce of Impeachment.

Macaulay, in his essay on the life of Warren Hastings, says of impeachment in general: "In truth, it is impossible to deny that impeachment, though it is a fine ceremony, and though it may have been useful in the seveneenth century, is now a proceeding from which much good can be expected. Whatever confidence may be placed in the decisions of the Peers on an appeal arising out of ordinary litigation, it is certain that no man has the least confidence in the impartiality, when a great public functionary, charged with a great crime, is brought to their bar. They are all politicians. There is hardly one among them whose vote on an impeachment may not be confidently predicted before a witness has been examined."

How applicable to the present impeachment trial at Washington!

A Terrible Spectacle.

St. Louis, April 19.—A ghastly spectacle was presented in the river below this city yesterday. During the Chet last summer a large number of bodies, victims of the epidemic, were buried by the city. The river had been for some time gradually wearing the Island away, and gradually the water reached the trenches in which the bodies were buried and washed some 50 or more feet out, which flooded down the stream. 24 corpses have been recovered and measures taken to secure the remainder.—These still on the Island will also be protected or removed to places of safety.

Democratic Doctrine.

We advocate reduced taxation. We insist on a reduction of expenses. We protest against any more stealing. We demand one currency for rich and poor.

We say, disband that large standing army that has exiled States. Abolish those bureau post houses. And let every able man in the South, white and black, have fair play and plenty of work, and all will go well again, as it was before the war.—Holmes County Farmer.

WM. M. BEER,
